HOCKEY.

The last game of hockey played on Thursday last, between Calgary and a combined team from the Thistles and N.W.M. Police, resulted in another victory for Calgary.

It was not by any means a good game of hockey, the ice on account of the warm weather being very soft. It was after very little play as if about two inches of snow had fallen; very little passing could be attempted as the puck would not travel.

The game played by the combination was not as good as either the Police or Thistles had put up, as the result shows. There was a large attendance at the rink, and the game though slow was well enjoyed. The teams lined up as follows:

CALGARY. Goal Point. Cover Point. Forward. Bruce, Watson, Calgary, first goal, 9 minutes. Bruce, Calgary, second goal, 10 minutes. Inapt. Snyder, referee. Turnbull and Chalmers, goal umpires.

In the district now it stands a tie between the Police and Thistles. That match will no doubt be played before the season closes and the hockey sticks then be laid up. The game was only started here and at Fort Saskatchewan this year and the boys have reason to feel well satisfied with the game they are playing.

HIS HONOR'S THANKS.

REGINA, March 4th, 1895.

MY DEAR SIR: To tell you how much I appreciate the generous reception accorded to me during my recent visit to Edmonton, would be to attempt something words fail to express, for I found so much consideration, so much hospitality, so much sympathy, that it convinced me of one thing, your people have warm hearts, endless energy and broad public spirit.

All I said in reply to the many addresses presented, I meant, and if at any time my services could prove of value to the Edmonton district, please command them on all occasions. Be so good as to thank your brother members of the council for the many evidence of friendliness extended to me, and through you I would also thank the citizens of Edmonton, the members of the agricultural society, the officers of the board of trade and those of St. Andrew's and St. Jean Baptiste societies.

I remain ever faithfully, C. H. MACKINTOSH, Lieutenant Governor.

His Worship MAYOR WILSON, Edmonton, Alta.

BE CAREFUL.

As shown by reports, many cases of contagious diseases are rampant in the large cities. In Chicago a report shows that there were in the smallpox hospital eighty-three patients, and in St. Louis there were seventy-five with the number increasing daily. Now because we live in a less crowded community, and in a healthy climate we are not entirely free from the diseases which are imparted from one to another as was shown us only a short time ago, when our city south, had in its midst that dreadful disease; it was proved then that it was all through carelessness on the part of some Chinese.

The authorities publish certain regulations requiring persons to take all precautions to prevent the spreading of any disease. Those regulations should be strictly carried out for the good of the whole community. One particular clause in the act says that a report must be made at once.

An action in the right direction taken by a magistrate at St. Albert, will learn people that when a law is made it must be adhered to. A child of N. St. Jean had diphtheria. The house and family were put under the quarantine regulations by the board of health. N. St. Jean not complying with the regulations, but exposed himself and endangered others. A charge was laid against him with the result that he was fined $10 and costs.

DISGRACEFUL.

WHILE the Rev. A. McDonald was preaching last evening in the Baptist church some one made free to take his best robe off his horse standing outside. It was an old time robe worth about $25 or $30 and impossible now to replace. Mr. McDonald says he would not mind it so much if it were a little later in the season, and makes the thief the offer if he will but return the robe to him in a month or six weeks let him have a chance of trying his trick again. Of course if Mr. thief has any bowels of compassion he will comply and give the parson the use of his robe till spring.—Com.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, MARCH 11TH, 1895.

ELECTION ADDRESS.

To the electors of Alberta.

GENTLEMEN.—As the nominee of the convention of Alberta liberals which was held recently at Calgary, and having been assured of a strong support by the patrons of industry in Northern Alberta, as well as at the solicitation of a large number of independent conservatives in this part of the country, I have the honor to offer myself as a candidate for the representation of Alberta in the Commons at the approaching general election. The stand which I take with the full knowledge and consent of those who have tendered me their support is that of an independent as to party, but not as to principle. On the main question at present at issue between the liberal and conservative parties, I understand that the organizations and individuals tendering me their support have done so with the wish and expectation that I would and will so far as lies in my power support the policy of a tariff for revenue as against the policy of a tariff for protection, which is the declared policy of the present government; on the ground that the protective policy discriminates unjustly against the western producer in favor of the eastern manufacturer.

Although holding strongly with the liberal party and also the patron organization on this point, I have not bound myself to either of these because I believe that the first duty of the single representative of so great a country holding such great possibilities as this district of Alberta, should be to use his every energy for the further development of this country and the realization of these possibilities; as he can not if he is to be subject to restraint by the exigencies of any party. This constituency has had party representation during the past eight years,—has been represented by a member of the party in power then and now. If the results have been satisfactory, that principle should be continued. If not it should be changed. It is because I believe that this system of party representation has been gravely injurious to this district that I have consented to make the personal sacrifice involved in my candidature, and because, so far as I know, no other person was likely to come forward to advocate these or like views.

In a region so vast and varied as Alberta it would be impossible for any man at any time to define all the points of policy that would affect each locality, therefore I do not attempt to do so here. I hope from time to time, however, in the course of the contest, to have the opportunity to discuss fully with the electors at most of the principal centres of population, all matters that may come up for discussion, in whatever shape they may appear. That such a vast region, having such a large population and such important interests should be accorded only one representative is as plain a case of injustice as is required to show the glaring failure of party representation to secure the people in even their simplest rights. The matter of railway extension and railway rates particularly in the north and the question of irrigation in the south seem to be the great questions affecting the interests of the district with which parliament will from time to time have to deal. I need not point out that while these are vital questions to Alberta, they are not party questions at all, and it is all the more necessary that your representative should be in a position to advocate your interests in regard to them in parliament without party hindrance even if he has to do it without party support.

Speaking generally I may say that I will support a policy of development for Alberta and while I will not bind myself to ask for favors for any section or interest I will bind myself to do all in my power to see that each section and every interest receives fair and equal treatment.

In conclusion I will say that although I have no personal interest to serve or ambition to gratify by entering upon this contest, yet having entered upon it in good faith I shall do all I can to win, and ask for the active assistance of every man who believes that the success of the principles which I have been selected to advocate would be in the interest of this constituency and of the country.

Respectfully Yours,
FRANK OLIVER.

EDMONTON, March 4th, 1895.

GENERAL MEETING.

Thirty-one members of the local Council of Women met for their first annual gathering on Thursday last, in the town hall, and the following business transacted. Mrs. A. Taylor, president, in the chair, asked all to join in silent prayer. An address of welcome was then read by the president as follows: "Ladies, the office bearers are happy to see so many present and hope the interest manifested to-day may continue. Many of the churches and other active organizations have affiliated with us, and you will be asked to listen to addresses by their presidents. We, as a board, heartily welcome all these societies. The object of our local council is to unite and broaden. To unite us in our woman work for good and to gain a more intimate knowledge of each others work, which will unite us in thought, sympathy and purpose. Broaden us by looking at the work others are doing in our own town and district. Not only here but all over Canada where women are united with us through 'The National Council of Women of Canada,' and it will bring us into connection with some of the noblest and best of women from Halifax to Victoria.

We will also be connected with many of the wise and good women of the United States, at whose annual meeting shortly to be held at Washington, a number of delegates will be present, who have been appointed from the National Council of Women of Canada. We do not stop in America, but across the ocean find women of our mother-country holding out their hands and inviting us to join them in their National Council.

From more distant lands come voices of greeting. The women of France and Germany also claim us as one in 'United National Council.' Before long this bond will form a golden thread of union of women all around the globe. "Women of affiliated societies it is to this noble union we welcome you—let it be your endeavor as a local council to fill your position as is required of you, inspired by the example of all the noble and wise women who are united with you through the National Council. Women whose names and works are known through all lands. We cannot mention all, but of whom 'Our President' Her Excellency the Countess of Aberdeen, is an example.

May this union inspire all in their different work, to take courage and go forward, infusing fresh life and energy into all societies.

May we find that our local council strengthens our hands in our work, besides bringing us into closer connection with the noblest and best of our generation."

The minutes of a previous meeting were then read by the recording Secretary, Miss Osborne. The president here called the roll. Reports by the corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. J. Walker, were then read, among which was the following letter:

DEAR MADAM: The following resolution has been forwarded to the minister of customs at Ottawa by the local council of Victoria. The secretary of that council writes, "On behalf of the president and members of our local council, I will ask you to notify the members of the executive committee of the National Council of this resolution, and of our movement in connection with it and to intimate to them our desire for their help and co-operation in this matter."

"Whereas some of the Chinese merchants of Victoria are making an effort to have removed the duty which is now levied on opium.

And whereas the board of trade at a meeting when the attendance was very small, recommended to the Dominion government to grant the petition forwarded by these Chinese merchants.

And whereas the victims of the opium habit are increasing not only among the Chinese, but also among the white population of this province.

And whereas the business is only one which depraves and corrupts humanity, and creates an appetite in its victim from which there is no escape.

Therefore, be it resolved, that we the Victoria Council of Women urge upon the government of our Dominion the necessity of making the deadly drug of opium as difficult to procure, as possible, and therefore request that the tax already upon it should not be lessened but rather increased."

EMILY CUMMINGS.
Corresponding secretary.
N. C. W.

The treasurer, Mrs. N. D. Beck, was called to read her report, after which business connected with the local council was carried on. The different churches and other societies were represented by their respective presidents and sketches from each were read.

For the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid Society Mrs. McQueen read the following:

At the call of the Presbyterians in Edmonton, for a minister of their own church, Rev. A. B. Baird, now Prof. Baird of Manitoba college, came in October, 1881.

A congregation was formed and in the spring of 1882, the present church was built and regular services have ever since been maintained.

Mr. Baird early recognized the need of united effort on the part of the women of the congregation, and in the autumn of 1885 he called a meeting to organize a society. It was called the ladies' aid society of the Presbyterian church of Edmonton, with the late Mrs. Taylor as president.

The society was formed for the purpose of aiding, not alone financially, but, for promoting sociability in the congregation, visiting the sick, relieving those in need and also assisting, as much as possible, in any other branch of general church work. The aims and objects of the society are still the same. It has been steadily maintained, holding its meeting the first Tuesday of each month. The work entailed by the society has ever been done readily and pleasantly by its members. It was a way open for each woman in the church to give of her time and work, as well as of her means, to promote the interests of the church with which she was connected, to do her part in making the world better than she found it and thus hastening the coming of the Kingdom of God.

As a society we join the local Council of Women of Edmonton, hoping that, as we have been benefitted by being members of the ladies' aid society of the Presbyterian church, we will be still more benefitted and strengthened in every way, by affiliation with a larger society working in a wider field.

Signed,
K. R. McQUEEN.
President.

Mrs. Blouey was next asked to read a sketch of the King's Daughters, which was as follows:
Our circle was organized Oct. 7th, 1893, with eleven members. We admitted only girls over 12 years of age.

We took for our work anything to help and uplift our fellow creatures especially those in need and trouble, visiting the sick and helping in every good cause as far as we are able. Our motto is "weary not in well doing," our text, "Bear ye one another's burdens and so fulfil the law of Christ."

We open our meeting by a scripture text, after which we sew while one of our members reads aloud from the silver cross magazine. Meetings are held weekly, when we have making, mending and remodelling of garments for the needy. Our sewing consists of quilt patching of which we have made four complete and tacked three. The patches are provided by the members. The lining, wadding &c., we purchase out of the circle funds. One of these quilts we sent to Medicine Hat hospital and two to women in great need.

Before closing we pledge ourselves to do something in His name by God's help each day.

Our treasury was empty for one month. On Nov. 8th, 1893, we gave our first entertainment, a Rainbow Tea, realizing $58.60. Seven of us took 10 cents each, of talent money, to try and make $4 in a month, realized,

In October we held our Japanese Tea and realized,

Two of our members saved their candy money, to help those in need. We benefitted thereby to the amount of

January, subscriptions to needy,

February, provisions, &c.

Total in cash paid out for needy $54 70

I have not here given you money expended for quilt, materials &c., Dominion and convention fees, also other items of expenses in connection with our order.

During February, '94, we held a week of prayer. There has been 31 joined our circle, about half that number being in attendance.

On behalf of the circle I now wish to thank the ladies of Edmonton who have so kindly aided us in our work, in donating clothing, reading matter, fruit and flowers. Nearly every month we have sent out a great quantity of clothing and reading matter. As cases are reported to us we investigate them as far as possible before aiding them. We have lately helped to sustain a Sunday school in the far north, sending reading matter, also a quantity of clothing to enable children to attend said school. This we did through one interested in our work, but not belonging to our circle.

We hope before long to announce definitively to you that Mrs. E. M. Tilley, of London, Ont., Dominion secretary of Kings Daughters, will be here to address you on behalf of King's Daughters and Sons work. We have found our meetings to be a great help to us spiritually and trust God will bless our efforts.

Mrs. N. D. Beck, representing the convents of Edmonton and St. Albert, next read an interesting sketch of the work done by the committees of nuns here and at St. Albert.

I found the sisters in both places well informed.

GENERAL MEETING.

formed of the object of this federation of societies and well pleased to be represented at this meeting.

The Sisters Faithful Companions of Jesus, whose mother-house is in Paris, have charge of the separate school of Edmonton. They are a community of eight persons, five teachers, three of whom are employed by the province, and three working or lay sisters: all are Englishwomen except one whose native town is Paris.

They teach a school whose average attendance is about 80 pupils, an almost equal number of boys and girls, who are kept entirely separate during class hours. The course of studies is that prescribed by the government for public schools; there is in addition a course of French and several pupils take lessons in music, singing and painting. With the very young children the Kindergarten system is used to a great extent.

This is a very difficult school to conduct, being composed of children of different nationalities. The home language of nearly half the pupils is French, and in many cases they have hardly any knowledge of English when first entering the school.

There is also a large percentage of English and French half breeds, eleven of whom speak little else than Cree. Three Germans are at present attending the school, one of whom speaks not a word of any language but their own. I may add to the list two Belgians who speak a peculiar French patois. From this you will see that the sisters labor under great difficulties in instructing their classes.

Besides these schools these sisters have charge of the church, that is to say the keeping it clean and in order, the decoration of the altar and the care of the vestments and altar linen.

I will now turn to the sisters of charity at St. Albert whose labors are so varied as to take some time to enumerate. They have 150 pupils in their government school including boys and girls; of these seventeen girls are boarders, receiving instruction in music, singing, drawing, painting and embroidery, in addition to the regular course of studies. There is an industrial school of 66 pupils, all Indian boys and girls; these children are instructed in every branch of domestic knowledge likely to be useful to them in after life; the boys are taught various trades and are employed on the farm and in the garden belonging to the sisters. They have too an excellent brass band. The girls learn to cook, to sew and make dresses; they have a loom with which they knit wool and spin it into yarn from which they knit stockings and all sorts of woollen garments. When Lady Aberdeen visited the schools she was particularly interested in this loom, the spinning wheels used by the girls, and in a carpet woven entirely by them. Two of these Indian girls went with Mr. De Cazes and a sister to the World's Fair at Chicago and remained there three months, taking their spinning wheels to exhibit their work. When these girls marry farmers the sisters provide them with wheels that they may spin the wool produced on their farm into warm clothing for their husbands and children. The sisters endeavor to watch over all their former pupils, to visit them from time to time, and on New Year's Day every year they are all gathered together as far as possible in their old home, the convent.

In the orphanage there are thirty-four children boys and girls, these are of all ages from the founding infant a few days old to the boy or girl of 15 or 16 who is almost ready to go out into the world to earn a livelihood. In the hospital an average of 40 patients per annum are received and cared for at the present moment however there are but two inmates.

The sisters have besides a home for the aged, where destitute people of both sexes are received.

One may ask, how is so large a number of people supported? I answer, largely by charity. Then the teaching sisters have their salaries which go entirely to the common fund of the convent and the farm supplies nearly all the necessities of life to the community. Indeed they have something to spare for the daily call upon their charity which are made by the poor habitants surrounding St. Albert.

Signed
Mrs. N. D. Buck.

Mrs. Dean next read a short sketch of the Methodist Ladies Aid Society as follows:

Mrs. President and Ladies.

The ladies aid society of the Methodist church of Edmonton, was organized during the summer of '86, having for its object, the furthering of the interests of the church.

Our methods of raising money have been by membership fees, tea meetings, socials, lectures, concerts, sale of useful and fancy articles.

Since organization we have raised the sum of $1,219.50, all of which has been expended on the church and parsonage.

Besides this we have visiting committees to look after the sick and call on strangers. Signed on behalf of Ladies' Aid.

Respectfully
S. E. Dean.

MANITOBA LEGISLATURE'S STAND
In the Legislature yesterday when Mr. Fisher introduced his motion in reference to public schools, Attorney General Sifton introduced the following amendment: That all words after the word "while" in the original motion be struck out and the following substituted: "This House loyally submits itself to the provisions of the constitution interpreted by the Judicial Committee of Her Majesty's privy council. It is hereby resolved that the exercise of appellate jurisdiction by the Governor-General-in-Council in such a way as to lead hereafter to the alteration of the principles upon which the public school system of Manitoba is founded, will be viewed with grave apprehension; that interference by the Federal authority with the educational policy of the province is contrary to the recognized principles of provincial autonomy; that this House will, by all constitutional means and to the utmost extent of its power, resist any attempt which may be taken to attack the school system established by the Public Schools Act of 1890, which is believed to be conceived and administered in the highest and best interests of the whole population of Manitoba."

Mr. Sifton in his speech to the motion, reiterated his previous position on the question. In his closing remarks he said: "The Government has enacted the law without hostility to any sections of the people and without any prejudice whatever." It had exercised the best judgment in the interests of the people as a whole, and they would stand by their course so long as they remained in power. A division was taken at one o'clock, resulting in the amendment being carried; vote 22 to 10.

General Herbert left for England on leave of absence. It is understood however, that he will not return.

An Ottawa dispatch says: A. J. Walters, the commissioner of customs and a well known and hitherto respected member of Ottawa society, pleaded guilty to five charges preferred by the government and was sentenced to one year's imprisonment.

We have received "The Delineator" for April. It is called the "Spring Announcement Number." It is an excellent specimen of this most popular woman's magazine. Supplementary to the regular issue of patterns there is a timely article on bicycling with illustrations. There is begun a most practical series on preservation and renovation, the first installment treating of the putting away and care of furs. Mrs. Roger A. Pryor writes on the etiquette of first calls and introductions; and a second paper on the experiences of a training school life. Bella Pearson Springer writes forcibly of typewriting as an employment for women; and Sara Miller Kirby gives further instruction in kindergarten teaching. New and exceedingly pretty designs are given in Venetian iron work, knitting, tatting, netting and crocheting, and the chapter on burnt leather work gives illustrations and information of the necessary tools and implements and advice to beginners. There is also a review of the newest books, some instrumental music, and an Easter carol. The subscription price of The Delineator is $1 a year, single copies 15 cents. Address all orders to the Delineator Publishing Co., of Toronto, (Ltd.) 33 Richmond street west, Toronto.
